Editorial Review

Review

"The texts are very well presented. The decision to use the complete work where possible is admirable."--
McRae Amoss, Longwood College

"Much better selection than Morris Bishop's choices!"--S. Fleck, California State University at Long Beach

From the Back Cover

Prepared entirely in French, this widely used anthology is designed as a basic text for the college survey course in French literature, offering students a rich selection of French poetry, prose, and drama from the Middle Ages to the present day. In addition, concise century-by-century introductions have been added, offering students a more immediate context for the selections. Long considered a standard in the field, Anthologie de la littérature française remains an invaluable resource for students of French literature.

About the Author

Robert Leggewie is at Pomona College, and the Claremont Graduate School (retired).
